Track Suspicious Activity

Stealth offers a solution to protect crane shafts where trespassers and daredevils may climb.

Our strategically-placed cameras are equipped with wireless technology to alert a trained operator if there is unusual activity.

The solution is carefully designed to move with the crane as it is raised and as the site evolves through different phases.

Track suspicious activity, reduce risks, limit liability and improve safety.

Choose an industry leader with over 100,000 watched cameras every night
